

“Porcelain Bantam”

Copper foiled stained glass panel
Eastern Rock Maple frame
(30” x 22”, frame 1-1/4” x 1-1/4”)

A variety of translucent and opaque glasses give this rooster his elegant pose. Iridescent black and white glasses lend a realistic sheen to his tail feathers. The body glass is formed from layers of colored glass swirled over a white glass base. From the back, his body is snowy white. Overlays of the red comb and brilliant orange neck feathers add dimension to the piece.

The panel is signed by the artist and displayed in a fine Eastern Rock Maple frame. It comes in a custom-fitted, foam-lined carton for safe shipping and handling. It is ready to be shown to its fullest beauty when hung in a sunny window or suspended from a ceiling beam by the hooks and chains that are included with the piece.
