

Poultry Welfare Symposium
Realistic Views Concerning Poultry Welfare
Wednesday, July 19
1:30-5:00

Moderator: Ken Koelkebeck, Department of Animal Sciences, University of Illinois, Urbana

1:30-1:35 Welcome and Opening Remarks
Ken Koelkebeck, Department of Animal Sciences, University of Illinois, Urbana

Welfare in North America

1:35-2:05 Historical Perspective on the Development of Poultry Welfare
Tony Pescatore, Department of Animal Sciences, University of Kentucky, Lexington

2:05-2:35 Public Perception of Poultry Welfare and How It Is Shaped
Wesley Jamison, Agriculture Department, Dordt College, Sioux Center, Iowa

2:35-3:00 Animal Care Guidelines and Future Directions
Bruce Webster, Department of Poultry Science, University of Georgia, Athens

3:00-3:15 Break

3:15-3:45 Welfare of Poultry in Non-Cage Housing Systems
Ruth Newberry, Department of Veterinary and Comparative Anatomy, Pharmacology and Physiology, Washington State University, Pullman

Moderator: Ken Anderson, Department of Poultry Science, North Carolina State University, Raleigh

Hot Topics in Poultry Welfare

3:45-4:10 Molting Layers – Alternative Methods and Their Effectiveness
Ken Anderson and Ken Koelkebeck, Department of Poultry Science, North Carolina State University, Raleigh, and Department of Animal Sciences, University of Illinois, Urbana

4:10-4:35 Neurobiological Basis of Sensory Perception: Welfare Implications of Beak Trimming in Poultry
Wayne Kuenzel, Center of Excellence for Poultry Science, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville

4:35-5:00 Density Allowances for Broilers, Turkeys, and Layers; Where to Set the Limits
Inma Estevez, Department of Animal and Avian Sciences, University of Maryland, College Park